

Material Storage & Unloading:

For Industrial and Power Applications

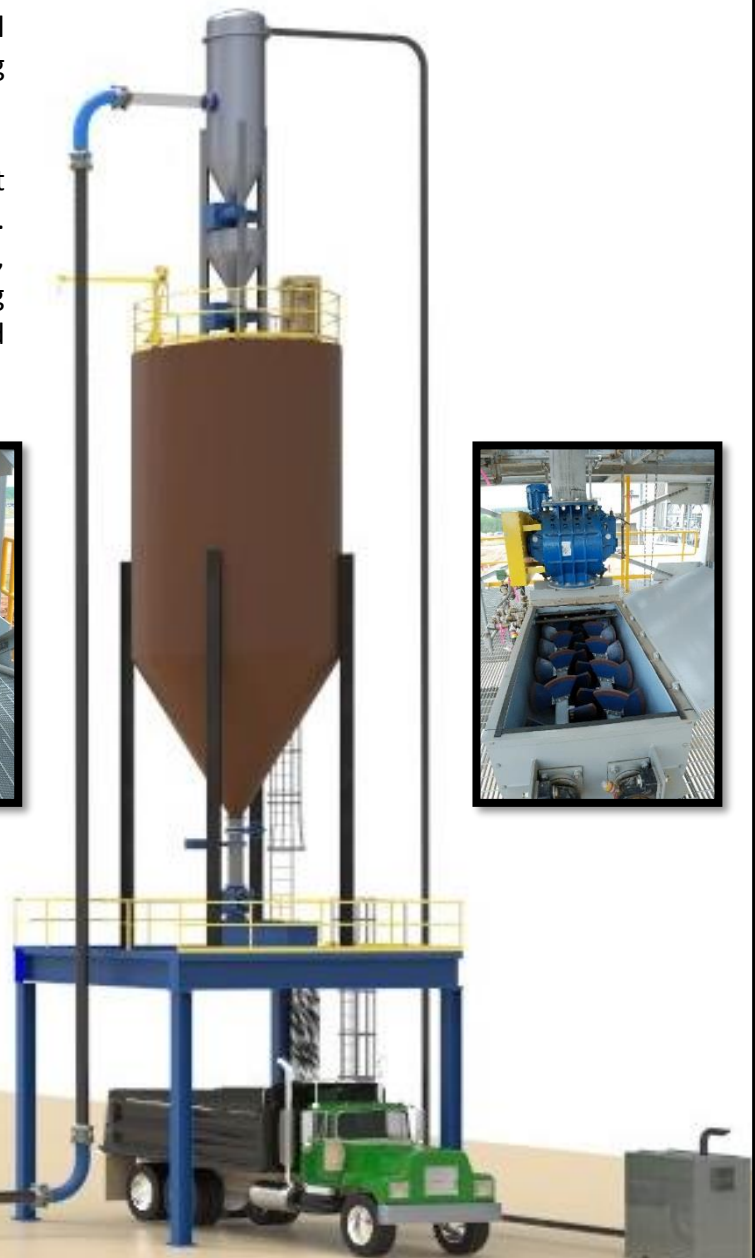

With products and technology dating back to 1921, Delta Ducon provides equipment and full systems for material handling applications serving a broad range of industries.

Material Storage Silos and Unloading Equipment are integral parts of a material handling system. Delta Ducon can design and supply storage silos, silo aeration and wet and dry silo unloading equipment that will meet the specific size and needs of the customer's application.
